ACCESS DIVERSE MOUNTAINTOP FILMING LOCATIONS WITH EASE

When you shoot at Grouse Mountain, you access privately owned lands and a team of experienced film liaisons with a can-do approach. Accessing cabins nestled in the forest, remote wilderness, remarkable views of city and mountains or even an authentic Pacific Northwest Longhouse is all in your backyard. We have hosted numerous shoots ranging from small independents, commercials, MOW, TV series and feature films over the last 30 years. Grouse Mountain's two aerial tram systems and private access road to top of mountain (non-snow season) make transport of crew and equipment a breeze.
